VOL. XI.

MARBLE HILL, MO., THURSDAY, JULY 2, 1891.

NO. 8

LOCAL AND GENERAL

—“Slip of the pen”—a pig.
—Nice, cool days these?
—Fourth of July next Saturday.

—Independence day next Saturday.
—Friendship will assist more than force.

—A new line of legal matter this issue.
—“A ground hog case”—savage covering.

—Croquette sets $1.20 to $1.60 at Dr. A. R. Jaques’.

—New clover hay is being sold here at 25cts per cwt.

—Atlanta, Ga., has a house constructed wholly of paper.

—God never forsakes a man until a man forsakes himself.

—Dr. Jaques’ Good Samaritan Never fail to relieve all from cholic &c.

—The hum of the thresher will soon be heard in our midst.

—Solid Gold Wedding rings a specialty.—A. R. Jaques, Lutesville.

—He who contends for principle will be a victor in the end.

—Accordeons, cheap, too, and very good at Dr. A. R. Jaques, Lutesville.

—The carpenters are pushing L. Mayer’s new residence rapidly.

—Screen Doors and Window Screens at Clark’s Hardware store, Lutesville.

—This office turned out some job work for W. K. Chandler Esq. last week.

—Children cry for Dr. Jaques’ Tasteless chill cure, Lutesville.

—Send us the cash or a card if you wish your paper continued after the time paid for expires.

—The gates leading to the pavilion will be thrown open to all comers and goers on the 4th of July.

—Married on the 29th at the residence of the brides, T. J. Jourdan to Miss Nettie Bowman.

—Each and every number of this paper is properly mailed to each and every subscriber. If any one fails to get an issue, we desire it distinctly understood that it is through no fault of this office.

—Many of our teachers are brushing up for the Institute. This is right, and all who can should attend. A feeling that you are not as well informed as some think you to be should be no excuse for non-attendance.

—The Lagong bridge, built over an arm of the China sea, is five miles long, with three hundred arches of stone, seventy feet high and seventy feet broad, and each pillar supporting a marble lion twenty one feet in height. Its cost is unknown.

—A correspondent writes us from the Flatwoods that a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Cobb recently; that relatives, from Indiana are visiting Mrs. Moore, and that Mr. J. Chronister was visiting in the Flatwoods last week.

—The County Teachers’ Institute will convene at Marble Hill, July 20th, and continue in session four weeks. A competent conductor will be employed. All teachers are urgently requested to attend.

—The St. Louis Republic, which has led the fight for Tariff Reform in the West announces that it will begin, early in July, a regular Tariff Department, which will be a feature of both its daily and weekly issues until the end of the campaign of 1892. Congressman William L. Wilson, of West Virginia, will edit the department, and besides contributing signed articles himself, will enlist the co-operation of well known and authoritative writers on various phases of the tariff question.

—The Republic promises to make its Tariff Department not only instructive and profitable current reading, but permanently valuable by its careful and accurate treatment of the subjects discussed. It will be indispensable to all who are interested in the discussion of their one great issue of the Presidential campaign of 1892.

—The Weekly Republic will contain the Tariff Department, and with these two issues per week, one mailed Tuesday and one Friday, is only One Dollar a year. Sample copies free. Address: The Republic, St. Louis, Mo.

—BASKET PICNIC.—There will be a nice Basket Picnic held in Rhodes’ Grove—a beautiful place in the suburbs of Glen Allen—on the Fourth of July. There will be good speaking, a variety of temperate refreshments on the grounds, a number of innocent amusements and everything tending to make the day an enjoyable one. Everybody is cordially invited to come and spend a pleasant day in a pleasant place with pleasant people.

—The hope of temporary gain often results in a bad bargain.

—No man can prosper long in the attempt to injure the business of others.

—Sometimes a stray scrap of paper betrays what some had thought to be a secret.

—Some teacher can secure a bargain in a No. 1 Elgin watch by calling at this office.

—Get your posters for the 4th of July celebration out on time. This office is fixed for the biz.

—Mr. and Mrs. James Seabagh attended the Masonic Picnic at Zalma last week.

—Go to A. & E. Miller’s for your groceries. They sell as cheap as anybody. Lutesville.

—You can get your Picnic ice from Jesse H. Lutes, Lutesville, at $1 per hundred pounds.

—Mr. Kauffman who has been absent on business a few weeks returned home last week.

—Have you a cough or bad cold? Dr. Jaques’ Compound Cough Syrup never fails to cure.

—When you have read the Press through do not throw it away, but hand it to some neighbor who is so unfortunate as to not be a subscriber.

—If you wish your paper continued after the time paid for expires, pay up, send us a card, or send us word to continue it, and if we have found you faithful, it will continue.

—Berry & Son respectfully solicit a reasonable share of your patronage and invite you to call and look at their goods and learn their prices, at their Glen Allen storerooms.

—If you want this paper and the “twice-a-week” Republic, of St. Louis, send us $1.70 and both papers will be sent to your address for one year. Subscribe. Cash in advance.

LUTESVILLE LOCALS.
F. von Stein is off looking up a location.

O. Masters of Brownwood is here on a visit.

Miss Martyn of St. Louis is here visiting friends.

Did on the 27, 1891, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Newell.

Peter Bess has moved back to his farm on Crooked Creek.

W. T. Wilson is putting a neat wire fence around his residence.

Louis Duncan and wife of Poplar Bluff are here on a visit.

Several of our citizens attended the Picnic at White Water last week.

Preaching in the M. E. Church Sunday evening at 7.30 o’clock by Rev. Kitterman.

Jesse H. Lutes, Lutesville, is selling better and cheaper harness than can be found elsewhere.

Dan Duncan who has been in working in Poplar Bluff for several months returned home Sunday.

Mrs. J. M. Poe and family returned home Thursday from a visit to relatives in Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Farmers, go to Jesse H. Lutes, Lutesville, if you want real and not imaginary bargains in harness or saddles.

W. H. Smith will soon move his restaurant to Dr. E. P. Biggs store building.

“Saddled and booted, eh?” Well, if you want a good saddle, a cheap saddle and a nice saddle you should not buy until you have examined J. H. Lutes’ stock and prices.

June 21, 1891.
Wheat harvest is about over.

Our friend Hoopoe was in our vicinity last Sunday.

Sam Bess is buying whortleberries at 25 cts per gallon.

We are having plenty of rain, too much for the corn crops.

Grayson & Co., has a fine lot of saw logs on hand now.

Church at Oak Grove next Sunday at 11 o’clock a. m. and prayer meeting at 7 o’clock p. m.

Fourth of July will soon be here. The boys and girls are preparing to go to Lutesville the 4th.

Marion Welker and others are preparing to start out with their threshing machine on the 6th of July.

Rev. Demmon delivered a good sermon at Oak Grove church house last Sunday and Sunday night also.

Rev. M. Robins and hands like wheat harvest so well last Saturday that they cut wheat till 12 o’clock that night.

John Moore has been in very poor health all spring and summer on account of his hip. Rheumatism supposed to be the trouble.

Pink Robins is still hauling logs to Bessville to the saw mill. We learn that Pink shows his smiling face at Uncle Billy’s every Sunday.

Oats harvest will be on hands in a few days. Oats look well. The boys say they want to get through harvest till the 4th so they can go to Lutesville where they can spend a pleasant day with their best girl.

J. A. Masters is talking of moving his little grist mill from Hurrican creek. We hope him good success and luck for we believe he can do good business over there for the good people over on that side need a grist mill.

A Lucky Woman.
Decatur, Ill., Dec. 1, 1890.
Mrs. Sarah C. Dodge, of this city, has fallen heir to $500,000 left by her grand father, the late Joseph C. Hodson, of London, England. She forwarded proof of her relationship to lawyers, and will receive her inheritance to-day.—Chicago Times, Dec. 2, 1890.

We are Mrs. Dodge’s lawyers, and by her seeing our advertisement, became the agent of her good fortune. If your ancestors came from the old country, write us and inclose $1 for our list of heirs. There are more than a half a billion dollars in Great Britain and Germany, unclaimed, which rightfully belong to people in the United States.

A fashionable lady at a watering place had a pet dog that she called “Perchance.”

“A singular name for your beautiful pet. Where did you find it?” asked a gentleman acquaintance.

“Oh,” drawled she, most exquisitely, “it was named by Byron’s dog. You remember when he speaks of it and says: Perchance my dog will howl.”

“You say you love my daughter?”
“Madly!”

The two men who stood facing each other at the moment when this brief conversation occurred were excellent specimens of American citizenship. The wealthy banker, Peter H. Gotrox, portly, suave and well-groomed, and Jerolomon Harkinson, the inventor, poor as yet in this world’s goods, but bearing on his thoughtful brow the promise of great achievements.

“Harkinson,” said the banker, “I was poor, once myself. I respect a man none the less on account of his lack of money, but I cannot throw my only daughter away on a man of no financial standing. You are an inventor. If, within three months, you shall have invented a machine, appliance or what not that is worth $50,000, Gladys shall be yours. I would gladly give you more time, but my wife is insisting every day upon my buying Gladys a prince.

For ninety weary days and an equal number of sleepless nights Jerolomon Harkinson toiled until the product of his genius stood complete—a flying machine that positively would fly. Then he invited the banker to be his guest on the initial journey of the “Aerial Queen.”

Floating above the city at an elevation of 8,000 feet, the two men, the man of money and the man of genius, clasped hands. For a moment not a word was spoken. Then the capitalist was the first to break the silence.

“My boy,” said he, faine is yours. And fortune.”
“And Gladys?”
“Yes. But it is growing late. Let us descend.”

The inventor gasped and turned white.
“I—I’m dinged,” he said in broken tones, “if I didn’t forget all about that part of it. There is no descending attachment to the doddadest machine!”—Indianapolis Journal.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION.
STATE OF MISSOURI, ss.
County of Bollinger,
In the Circuit Court of said county, in vacation.

The State of Missouri, at the relation and to the use of W. A. Dunn, collector, plaintiff, vs Mary R. Patton, defendant.

At this day comes the plaintiff, by his attorney, and files his petition, alleging among other things, that defendant is not a resident of the State of Missouri, and cannot be served with the ordinary process of law; whereupon it is ordered by the Clerk, in vacation, that said defendant be notified, by publication, that plaintiff has commenced a suit against him in this court, the object and general nature of the petition filed is the enforcement of the lien of the State upon the real property in the petition described, situated in said county, viz:

40 acres, the northeast quarter of the northeast quarter, sec. 14, twp. 28, range 8 east.

And that unless the said defendant be and appear at this court at the next term thereof, to be begun and holden at the court house, in the town of Marble Hill, in said county, on the 2nd Monday of September next, and on or before the sixth day of said term, if the term shall so long continue, and if not, then on or before the last day of said term, answer or plead to the petition in said cause, the same will be taken as confessed, and judgment will be rendered according.

And it is further ordered that a copy hereof be published, according to law, in the Marble Hill Press, a weekly newspaper published in said county, for four weeks successively, the last insertion to be at least four weeks before the commencement of said term.

A true copy from the record. Witness my hand, and the seal of the circuit court of Bollinger county, this 4th day of May, 1891.

Henry M. Smith, circuit clerk.
